Nicaragua Canal Impossible on Account of the Numerous Quicksands.

DANGER FROM FLOODS

The debate over the Isthmian canal and the comparative merits of the Panama and Nicaraguan routes, now pending in congress and attracting national attention, is of special inter-est to one Janesville gentleman be-cause he has visited that section of cause he has visited that section of the country, surveyed as a civil en-gineer, is familiar with the natural conditions and is able to judge be-tween the two routes because of his

This company was interested in mining and railroading and al-though most of the time was spent in Venezuela, some work was done in Favors Panama Route Rev. Tippett favors the Panama route, not buly because the work is partially done and because the canal can be constructed and maintained more economically, but more canal can be constituted and more economically, but more especially for the reason that the canal can be built and he deems it very improbable that the Nicaraguan canal ever could be. The Panama and the deems of the country is the country in the country in the country is the country in the country in the country is the country in the route lies directly across the country from sea to sen with practically no natural differences to evercome. question about its completion.

This is not true concerning the Nicaraguan route and Rev. Tippett cays he does not think it possible that a canal can be built through this country. The route is circuitous but the real obstacle, which he fears would prove insurmountable, is the country of the c abundance of quicksand in the country. It is everywhere and makes Nicaragua one of the most treacher-Nicaragua one of the most treated cus of countries, deceiving and dangerous and sailors who have been on Nicaragua lake for many years know but little more about it than at the beginning of their experience.

In 1876 there was hardly a bit of snow and no sleighing during the entire time. The thermometer was above zero during almost the entire time. Merchants who have heavy clothing on their hands, shoe dealers with account of heavy with the control of with stocs of heavy rubbers, coal and wood dealers and in fact all classes husiness men that depend cold weather for trade are complain-ing of the warm weather. They say It is a killer on trade and that the people can get along without buy-ing any winter stuff.

The people who are pleased with the weather are the working men and artisans, who are the ones that have to buy the winter goods. They say with potatoes at a dollar a bushel and coal at $8.50 a ton they can stand a whole lot of warm weather. The indications this afternoon are that there will be a sudden change in the weather followed by snow.

GEN. MILES BUSY LAYING WIRES

Commander of Army Open Candidate for Presidency in 1904-In Democratic Race.

Washington, Jan. 10 .- Two candi dates for the presidency in 1904 dined together at he White House last night. One was President Rocsevelt, the host, and the other was Lieutenant General Miles, one of the guesta at the diplomatic dinner. Gencral Miles is now an open candidate for presidential honors. He has long had an inclination in that direction, but since he was reprimanded y the president for his interview on the Schley case the commanding gen-eral of the army has made little if any concealment of his determination to win the democratic nomination two years hence if he can.

He is actively playing his cards with that end in view. In fact, the decision of Admiral Schley to appeal his case to the president is said on good authority, to be part of the Miles programme to embarrass Mr. Roosevelt. The national capital is full of the most interesting gossip concerning this latest phase of the celebrated controversy and the plans of General Miles to make a political issue of the Schley case with himself as the central figure. General Miles would like to be nominated for president in 1904, with either Schley or Dewey as his running

The exact figures were $1,067,603,606, as comhas just been issued. The exact figures were $1,067,603,606, as compared with $971,900,894, in 1899, a gain of $95,702,712, of 9.85 per cent. Iron and coal alone yielded more than half of the grand total, their combined value being over $566,000,000. bined value being over $566,000,000. The statistical summary of the production of the various minerals already has been published. Of the total siron ore cutput of 25,553,161 long tons, the Lake Superior region, embracing mines in Michigan, Wisconsin and Minnesota, produced its maximum output of 20,564,238 long tons, or 75 per cent. of the total for the United States. STALWARTS ARE ALL SATISFIED

Attempts to Prejudice the Brewers Against Whitehead Will Fail.

GERMANS CAN SEE

Honesty, Fairness and Ability First Considerations---Janesville Man Liberal Minded.

SPREAD OF THE BOOM

There is no difference of opinion among Wisconsin stalwarts concerning Senator Whitehead, says the Milwaukee corespondent of the Chicago inter-Ocean. The German newsparers of influence will be behind him and the brewers will not go after his scalp because he is a total abstainer. They will support him because they believe he is honest, fair and big believe he is honest, fair and big enough to be governor.

Therefore any attempt such as that made today by thec hief organ of the La Follette faction in this city to create a prejudice against Whitehead among the German-Americans will be of no avail. Milwaukee brewers are not narrow, and neither are other leading business men of the state.

Need Not Be a Beer Guzzier.

In Milwaukee we have Mayor Rose who boasts that he has not tasted intoxicating liquors of any kind in twen ty-five years, and he has demonstrated that he is very pepular with the brewers and other German-Americans. A man must not necessarily Le a guzzler of beer to capture the vote of the German-Americans. It is an insult to them to say so.

What they want is honest brainy public officials, just as brewers and others want honest and sober employes, and when they can find the latter they employ them in preference to all others. The time was when drinking was a qualification in some lines of business. It is no in some lines of business. It is no longer necessary, even in a brewery.

He is a Reformer Whitehend is the favorite of the stalwarts at this time, and the stal-wart forces will soon be massed around him. There is but one opinion on this question, and since his taxation speech at Madison no man has appeared to be better qualified to carry the Stalwart banner than Whitehead. He is a reformer, but not a fakir.

Pfister is Satisfied.

And it is worth mentioning in this connection, for the benefit of those half-breeds who are afraid that White head will not suit Charles F. Pfister that Mr. Pfister is delighted with the stampede in the direction of the Janesville man. It was not Pfisfer who did it, but Pfister is satisfied.

Whitehead will be supported by every leading stalwart in Wisconsin. and Pfister is not at the bottom of the list. He will be the only repub-lican candidate in the field against LaFoliette. He will be nominated, and he will be elected and if any halffreed newspaper that expects to de-feat him because he goes to church or because he is not a drinking man. will discover that he has

The fact that Whitehead is the stalwart choice is too manifest to need detailed evidence. He has stolen the thunder of the reformers, and they are in a dazed condition, the test proof of which is found in the attempt of La Follette's official organ to use Whitehead's temperance and religious tendencies to his disadvantage, and to carry the idea that he would be objectionable to the saloons and Pfister.

The new version of Edmund Hayes' very funny farce. "A Wise Guy," comes to the Myers Grand, Monday, Jan. 20. This up to date vaudeville farce, with its wealth of high class specialities wealth of high class farce, with its wealth of high class specialties, was one of the big hits of last season's productions. Edmund Hayes still retains the best of all the material which made him such a favorite to theater goers last season.

The first two acts are entirely new using as a basis for their story Rotertson's great comedy of David Garrick. This would seem rather inrick. This would seem rather inconsistent to endeaver to combine the characters of David Garrick and Spike Hennessy, but Mr. Hayes has written a clever travesty on the well known comedy and there is said to be a laugh in every line from the time of David Garrick's entrance in the first act until Spike Hennesy's exit in the last. ZIII. WEATHER FORECAST.

Fair tonight, Saturday cooler. TOO MUCH AUTHORITY.

The educators of the state at their recent convention in Milwaukee appointed a committee of eleven to canvass the question of spelling and if 'sufficient sentiment prevailed omong educators, to abclish the present system and establish in its place what is:known as the short hand or phonetic., system.

The state educators may possess a great deal of wisdom. They may represent the embodiment of knowledge so far as text books are concerned, but so far as population is concerned, they represent less than one per cent. In point of practical knowledge t, the percentage is also limited for the whole trend of thought and most of the activities of life, are devoted to a single channel, and the horizon is naturally, pre-scribed. That they are faithful work-ers and intelligent so far as text book knowledge is concerned, is not delisteable, but that many theories udifficed, and many methods adopted arc. impractical, is also a question that is frequently, conceded.

In spite of the fact that the much mall speed school board, composed usunity of business men of hard prac-tical common sense, is a by-word in the minds of many educators, the fact remains that It is the only organization that stands between the common schools of the state, and the parent who furnishes the material for experimental work.

The school board not infrequently taives the school from fads that are worse than useless, and it is to be hoped that authority will be exercised in putting down this last inno-

Phonetic spelling is a farce. It was tested in the country schools fifty reafs. ago. and was speedily abandoned. If the state adopts it, the next generation will be handicapped, and there is no demand for capped, and there is no demand for the needed was a dose of phones. placing an embargo on the limitations Air such needed was a dose of phonetof the present. The average boy or girl from the grades and high schools today, are deficient enough when they enter the field of active competition for a liveliheod. If they are fortunate enough to have some friend who will teach them to spell correctly, to write a legible hand, and to compose a sentence that will hang together, they are extremely favored, but many of them are deprived of this kind of instruction, and they blunder along for years, wondering why they don't succeed.

Phonetic spelling has but one advantage, and that is a cloak for ignorance. It is perhaps true that Mr. Webster committed blunders in compiling a spelling book for English speaking people, but the book has become so well established that it is regarded as universal authority. The educators of Wisconsin display more ambition than good judgment, in attempting to compete with . the eld authority, and the effort is entite led to well merited failure. If English spelling is to be revised, English speaking nations should be consulted. The little state of Wisconsin, while in the throes of reform, can afford to wait until the demand law enforced. Is more general. Educators are exceeding authority in making the eftort,

AS A REFORMER.

The Green Bay Gazette recently published the following editorial paragraph concerning Congressman Babcock, which contains more truth than poetry:

"By way of general remark it may be said there is evidently more be-hind the Babcock plan than a legitimate desire to remedy the trust evil. Politics in Wisconsin has reached the point where the men who ery loundest against corporations hope to receive the greater public favor. Issues are manufactured out of little or nothing, and champions rush to the people's defense when the peo-ple stand in greater need of pretec-tion from such champions. The disposition to foster discontent in or-der that some 'reformer' may be giv-en a chance to shine before the peothe is the crying evil in Wisconsin. Issues are created for the individparty. It is time for Wisconsin re-publicans to return to the principles of republicanism.; If, Mr. Babcock needs an "issue" in the Third District he is welcome to his tariff reform scheme, but the republican party will glory nor profit in it.

LAW NO REMEDY. :

"In referring to a particular occasion, The Janesville Gazette recent-

y said:
"In Janesville, the combined cau cus attendance was less than the usual representation at a single ward. In one of the precincts three men met in a barn and elected delegates. In another fourteen were present."

"The foregoing has drawn from the Madison; Journal this remark: It is to correct this absurd condition of affairs that primary elections are designed. That the attendance of signed. That the attendance of electors at caucuses is sometimes absurdly small is true—when, for ex-ance of the politicans but rather to their inactivity. The assumption of the Madison paper that primary elections would correct this absurd condition of affairs' is in itself absurd. The same circumstances which correspondingly light vote at primary elections. It is an easy matter to lead a horse to water but it is a hard job to make him drink."—Appleton Post.

The paragraph referred to and commented on by the Madison Jourual, was taken from an editorial recently published by The Gazette in reference to conditions that existed in Janesville when Governor La Follette was the only candidate for governor. The primary law was not under discussion, and there was no absurdity about the situation. The caucuses throughout the state, as well as the convention, that nominated him, were simply matters of torm. The conditions were the same President McKinley was nominated by acclamation. In both cases no other name was presented, The Madison editor went out of his way to revive a dead issue.

Party Lines Obliterated in Final Ballot on Nicaraguan Measure.

THE VOTE STANDS 308 TO 2.

One Republican and One Democrat Go Project-The Fananca Route is Re-

Washington, D. C., Jan. 10,-By the extraordinary record vote of 308 to 2 the House of Representatives this afternoon passed the Nicaragua Canal bill without any amendment except that suggested by the committee. Every effort to introduce the Panama Canal scheme as a factor regarding transit through the isthmus was defeated by an overwhelming majority. Mr. Cannon of Illinois, who has opposed the Nicaragua Canal bill because he believes the proposition of the Panama company should be thoroughly investigated, moved to recommit the Nicaragua bill to the committee with instructions to report a new measure giving the President authority to decide upon the route. Mr. Cannon's motion was defeated by the overwhelming yote of 206 to 41. He could not even secure enough to have the yeas and nays taken, and, in fact, the only record vote was on the final passage of the bill. On this even Mr. Cannon voted in the affirmative. Party lines were absolutely obliterated and the spectacle was presented of a great national undertaking involving the expenditure of more than a hundred million dollars being passed through the House with a monotonous chorus of offirmative votes. Not even under the stimulus of the war excitement did the House throw away partisanship to such an extent. The two votes in the negative were cast by one Republican and one Democrat, Mr. Fletcher of Minnesota and Mr. Lassiter of Virginja. The House was suspicious/of all amendments and voted them (down with the regularity of clockworks. The vote on the original proposition for the Panama Canal was 170 to 102.

Friends of the Nicaragua Canal took the ground early in the fight that all amendments must be considered as hostile to the main purpose of the canal. It was felt that if the proposals of the Panama company should prove to be made in good faith and if satisfactory treaty arrangements can be made with Colombia, through which the Panama Canal would pass, there would be abundance of time while the bill is still in the Senate to adapt it to the purposes of the Panama route ff that should be deemed desirable. There is scarcely any doubt that the Canal bill will pass the Senate, although it is likely that there will be considerable delay to permit of an examination of the status of the Pan- point of importuning their governama Canal project. The Hephurn bill as passed to-day authorizes the Presi- Kaiser's ministers. There are a host dent to acquire the necessary territory from the states of Costa Rica and Nicaragua through which to build a canal sufficient to accommodate ships of the greatest tonnage from a point near Graytown on the Caribbean Sea via Lake Nicaragua to Brito on the Pacific Ocean. The Government, However, Will Make No Move at Present-Nothing to Be Done Until the Insursetion Against Custro Is Ended.

Washington, D. C., Jan. 10 .- The Republic of Venezuela, beset by internal dissension and daily expecting foreign complications through Germany's purpose to make her pay obligations to German subjects, is in danger of new troubles, which must tend to subdue even the bold and deflant spirit of President Castro. Germany's announcement of her intention to make Venezuela pay up has had the effect of bringing other creditors to the ments to follow the example of the of people in France and the United States who had vainly endeavored to secure a settlement of their pecuniary claims against the Venezuelan government, and these have now begun to renew their efforts to bring Castro to terms. Since the publication of the statements of Germany's plans of comto the President and the State Department urging that the example of Germany be followed. Their letters have been emphatic on this point. The writers want the President to take immediate action and to back up demands for the payment of the American claims with a squadron of warships. There is no disposition on the part of the authorities here, however to make any move in this direction until conditions in Venezuela have changed. Germany's forbeatance in deferring action toward the collection of her debts until Venezuela's internal troubles have passed away is regarded by this government as a display of proper spirit, and it is safe to say that even should the State Department decide to 50 to extremes in pressing the claims of American citizens nothing will be done in that direction until after the insurrection has ended. It may be predicted also that even after that the United States will not move until Germany has carried out her plans for Clearfield, Pa., Jan. 19.—The Rickeyite Non-Explosive Powder company's mill near here was destroyed by fire. Two men were burned to death, a third will die from his injuries, and two others were seriously burned but it is thought will recover. The dead are John C. Stewart and Roy Smith. The injured are G. H. Roseberry, will die: James Blacker and F. K. Zentmeyer. It is supposed that an explosion preceded the fire. Stewart's body was found in the ruins of the burned mill, the limbs having been burned from the body. The other four men es-caped from the mill with their clothing afire. They ran into the river near by to extinguish the flames, and when persons attracted by the fire arrived at the scene the men were found on the river bank. Smith died a few hours later and Roseberry, It is thought, can not recover. The five men were employed in the mill and were the only persons in the place when the fire broke out. The mill was owned by former Congressman Jumes Kerr of this county and W. H. Rickey of New York. It was built about eight months

London, Jan. 10 .- What the men of tact in the British cabinet feared would happen as the result of Colonial Sec-retary Chamberlain's reference to the German army in his Edinburgh speech has actually come to pass. Chancellor von Bulow has called the colonial secretary and called him hard. Judging from the German chancellor's words, even official assurances from Downing street that Mr. Chamberlain meant no offense could not restrain Count von Bulow's itching desire to speak his mind. The problem now confronting the Salisbury ministry is how to prevent Secretary Chamberlain from selzing the first opportunity to strike back and thus open the way for an interministerial quarrel fraught with peril to the good relations of England and Germany.

Curious Sickness of Horse.

A curious case of sickness in a horse came under the observation o few days ago A gentleman in this city called the doctor to attend his horse, as it would not eat or drink and was getting quite thin. The doctor examined the horse and for some time could discover no reason why it would not eat or drink. Finally, after examining its tongue carefully, he found a small spot that seemd to be inflamed and was very sore to the touch. He took his lance and opened the tongue at the sore spot and found a large bag needle, which, when removed was about four inches long. The needle was lengthways of the tongue and had evidently been picked up by the horse while it was feeding. After the needle was removed, the After the needle was removed, the horse had no trouble about eating 子を変数 or drinking.
